*A Message from
Rev. Dr. Roger Paavola, President*

Church Planting

In Charles Dickens' A Tale of Two Cities, he begins with a paradoxical statement: "It was the best of times; it was the worst of times." It kind of sounds like the situation facing the Christian Churches in this early Twenty-First Century. We're in the best of times; yet it seems to be the worst of times. Why we are even here? What's happening? Some recent reports from the Barna Group have indicated that the United States loses around 600 churches every day! In the meantime, those boarded up churches are being replaced by only 3.5 churches per day.

Amazingly, the number of churches per our population is the lowest it's been since 1906! Is the modern church even making a statement? Now I'm not talking about why we are here as the church - at least not directly. The Church and church planting is God's work. Yet, if we want to keep up with our privilege and responsibility as the children in God's family, church planting should become a critical part of fulfilling our part in the mission of Christ. For us in the Mid-South District, church planting is not only to revitalize older congregations, but it's the best way to reach new people groups and generations and achieve diversity. What does all of this mean?

What the church does in our communities are the good things people resonate in their thoughts about a church. There is absolutely nothing wrong with this. But is trying to figure out the needs of the community the primary role of the Church? Aren't there several other social programs that do that? If this is the only and primary focus of a church, should church planting be the primary role of the greater Church?

What seems to become apparent is that the organizational view about the Church's "mission" may not agree with the "mission" Jesus gave to His Church. What is a mission? According to Webster, a mission is "a specific task with which a person or a group is charged; a ministry commissioned by a religious organization to propagate its faith or carry on humanitarian work." There it is in that last phrase - carry on humanitarian work. It seems a little restrictive for our definition of "mission."

Too many churches see themselves as one of the many humanitarian, social, or cultural groups designed to address the needs of the community. On some level, I can understand that by feeding people who are genuinely hungry or giving clothes to those who truly need them, we're doing what Christ asks us to do in Matthew 25. It works! But what is Christ's mission and our mission? Why are we here? Scripture reminds us, "For the Son of man is come to seek and save that which was lost." (Luke 19:10) Based on His statement, Christ's "mission" was twofold. First, He came to seek the lost and, second, He came to save the lost. Seeking the lost was His mission.

But the second part of His mission was to save the lost – those who were destined to spend eternity in heaven. Jesus came to save everyone. But some do not choose Him. Only those who are called by the Gospel through the Holy Spirit will be saved. Yet, according to Luke 19:10, His mission wasn't a humanitarian effort. Yes, He fed the hungry. But He did not go the villages to find hungry people or seek out for those who needed clothes. That's not what His Father sent Him to do.

In Matthew 4, Jesus was tempted by the devil. He responded to Satan for messing with His cousin, John the baptizer. Matthew records His next comments: "From that time Jesus began to preach, and to say, 'Repent! For the kingdom of heaven is at hand.'" In other words, "Repent of your evil inclinations because the kingdom of heaven can be yours!" The people hearing this would have been shocked. They believed they were already going to heaven because they did their best trying to keep the Law of Moses and they were Israelites.

But the New Covenant belongs to Jews and Gentiles alike. Jesus came to die for the sins of ALL THE WORLD! So, when Jesus walked by the Sea of Galilee, He saw two brothers casting a net into the sea. He then said, "Follow Me, and I will make you fishers of men." This is the beginning of First Century church planting. He called disciples to be about the work of the Kingdom of God.

Being His disciples means following Jesus. It means saying what He would say and doing what He would do. Peter, Andrew, James, and John were about to go on a church planting exercise. They were going to bring the message into the streets, "For the Son of man is come to seek and save that which was lost."

St Paul similarly wrote to Timothy (1 Tim 2:4) saying, "Who (God) will have all men to be saved, and to come to the knowledge of the truth." The first disciples, Peter, James, John, Andrew, Paul, and us, as sons and daughters of the Father embrace our mission to find those who are lost because they're not yet part of our Heavenly Father's family. We can lead them to Jesus through His Word and the guidance of the Holy Spirit.

Let's be reminded of the definition of the word disciple. St Peter (1 Peter 1) reminds us that every Baptized person is called to be God's witness – to declare the excellencies of Him who called us out of darkness by God's marvelous deeds. The word "disciple" means to be a follower. But it also comes from an Old English word that relates to discipline – following the disciplines of the Leader by being a faithful disciple of Christ.

This is the way Jesus plants churches. Those fishermen followed Jesus and learned that in order to "catch men," they would have to share what is totally God's work into the hearts of the people. When they followed God's guidance, they were able to put into practice, their calling for the kingdom of heaven. God would still do the work. God will still offer the grace in conversion.

Maybe this is what's missing in the Church today. In Matthew's Gospel, Jesus laid out the work of the disciples: "Go ye therefore, and make disciples of all nations, baptizing them in the name of the Father, and of the Son, and of the Holy Spirit, and teach them to observe all the things that I have commanded you. And, lo, I am with you always, even unto the end of the ages." (Matthew 28:19-20)

Based on Scripture, church planting (or making disciples) is God's primary mission work. Church planting (making disciples) is critical for fulfilling Christ's mission. Based on years of data, church planting is the best way to reach new people, groups and generations. But, in addition, sound doctrinal teaching and relational support are certainly essential for the kingdom of God!

The Mid-South District has its primary initiatives to continue church planting and making disciples for Christ. We're also called to be good stewards of what the member congregations of the District do to support the church planting effort. Forging a partnership with a congregation, circuits, or a partnership of congregations, will be our continuing church planting efforts and keeping responsible stewardship of the support from our congregation commitments.

Even now, we have new sites and new partners working with the District offices to look at the feasibility of church planting and re-planting of new ministries. Does it work? Only by the Will of God will our efforts be blessed to bring the Gospel message into the hearts of more people in our District and around the world. Thank you, again, for our partnership together for the Kingdom of Christ.

Million Dollar Life Match, $25K granted to Knoxville Circuit churches for Pregnancy Resource Center

"By this we know love, that he laid down his life for us, and we ought to lay down our lives for the brothers. But if anyone has the world's goods and sees his brother in need, yet closes his heart against him, how does God's love abide in him? Little children, let us not love in word or talk but in deed and in truth," 1 John 3:16-18. These verses are the foundation of the LCMS Life Ministry initiative that includes the Million Dollar Life Match.

Congregations of The Lutheran Church—Missouri Synod (LCMS) responded to the call to love women vulnerable to abortion, and families facing challenges at the beginning-of-life stages of their children, demonstrating this love through many acts of mercy in their communities. In just the first phase of the Million Dollar Life Match they have received over 50 applications requesting over $500,000.

The LCMS Office of National Mission awarded [the joint effort between Praise Lutheran, St. Paul Lutheran, and Christ Our Savior Lutheran *and other area churches joining this effort*] for the sake of the Pregnancy Resource Center according to the grant] the Million Dollar Life Match Grant #6944 Training &

Medical Expenses in the amount of $25,000.00.

Please rejoice and give thanks today for the good news of the gift match. We pray the Lord bless the efforts of PRC to bring help to moms and dads and encourage them to make decisions for life and to know Him who is for them, Christ Jesus. We also pray that our congregations will be encouraged by the LCMS Life Ministry's Million Dollar Life Match to have generous hearts in order to give funding soon for the valuable need for PRC in training staff at the new Sevierville office.

IN RECORD TIME

Did you know that Vacation Bible School can be successful with only a month's planning time? It's not recommended, but it's totally possible, especially if the director has an excellent team of volunteers who step up to make VBS an exciting, fun-filled, faith-filled adventure.

With the theme "Food Truck Party: On a Roll with God," the children and staff were awed by decorated mini-food trucks, miles of flags and a bazillion balloons festooning the hallways, and craft, science, Bible story-time, and recreation sessions all built around the daily specials: "God is great! God is good! Let us thank God for our food. By His hand we all are fed, Give us, Lord, our daily bread!" Top Chefs Jacques and Marcus (Pastors Chuck Neugebauer and Mark Goble) taught us that as God provides for us, we are to provide for others, and with that in mind, the VBS participants brought in canned goods to share with the Mid-South Food Bank.

VBS Week ended with enthusiastic, energetic music from all the kids, and a visit from Mempo's mobile food truck. We pray that the week made a lasting impression on our children, knowing that God provides for us as He loves us dearly.
